- Dan Haggerty asked for follow-up on his previous question to the Supervisor about including an underpass in the SR-1 Moss Beach corridor.

Public Comments/Questions:

- Carlyle Ann Young asked three questions:
 - 1) She asked for clarification that West Nile Virus and the Asian Fruit Fly issue are two separate issues.
 - 2) She asked whether new airport technology for monitoring aircraft will be used to charge pilots for touch and go activity.

3) She requested the County remove storm debris on the shoulder of Highway 1 between the North entrance to Devil's Slide tunnel and Linda Mar.

B. (7:23) Harvey Rarback, Half Moon Bay City Council, reported the following:

Harvey responded that the City signed the lease, but it is funded by a grant from the County, and the Opportunity Center is meant to serve the entire coastside.
- Carlyse Ann Young commented that City of Half Moon Bay's refusal to contribute funding for pipeline repairs could impede the ability to start the project.
Harvey responded that the lawsuit will be heard on October 5, 2023 with an anticipated decision by the end of the year.

3. Consent Agenda:

The MCC meeting minutes of July 12, 2023, July 26, 2023, and August 16, 2023 were all approved by consent, 7/0.

4. (7:30) Regular Agenda:

a. Independent Civilian Oversight of the Sheriff

A presentation was delivered on a proposed independent civilian board that would oversee the San Mateo County Sheriff. The presenters were Nancy Goodban and Jim Lawrence of Fixin' San Mateo County, a local grassroots organization working to enact effective, independent civilian oversight of the County Sheriff's Office. The organization is seeking the MCC's support and endorsement. The San Mateo Board of Supervisors is expected to conduct a study session in October and then vote on the item by the end of 2023. If approved, implementation would happen in 2024-2025.

Council Comments/Questions:

- Gregg Dieguez expressed concerns about financial capital management and regular oversight of the budget. He asked whether the Sheriff's office has an opinion on the proposed oversight board? He also asked the presenters what is needed from the MCC.

- Claire Toutant asked what “Fixin’ San Mateo” does as an organization besides advocate for this initiative. The response was that this is the organization’s only mission.
- Claire asked if there is another model that is also under consideration by the Board of Supervisors. The response was that the Supervisors studied three models and chose to further explore this particular model.
- Claire asked if there are other inspector generals in the County? Is there one for the County overall? Response was no, there isn’t an inspector general currently, but the County does pay close attention and the Board of Supervisors has budget authority over the Sheriff.
- Gus Mattammal expressed concerns about giving civilians power over the sheriff, which could create an adversarial relationship, and he stressed the need for a mechanism for dialogue other than the media, and a structure where civilians have an advisory role. Gus asked how this would be funded. Response was this model recommends 1% of the Sheriff’s budget, but not to come out of the Sheriff’s budget. There are also other models.
- Ann Rothman noted vacancies and recruitment needs that the Sheriff’s office already has and whether this would siphon funds away from those needs; She commented on the value of encouraging a positive view of police officers and the need for mental health support for police officers. The response was that this oversight model is aimed at helping the Sheriff’s office attain these kinds of goals. Jim emphasized the need for checks and balances.
- Scott Bollinger asked what the $3 million budget covers. The response was that it covers a full-time person (inspector general) and the ability to operate any investigation, training, and administrative program support.
- Scott asked if the program is meant to be preemptive for a specific problem identified. The presenters responded that it is meant to address systemic racism and bias the statistics point to, as mentioned during the presentation.
- Dan Haggerty supported improving communication between the community and the sheriff’s office.

Public Comment/Questions:

- Carlyle Ann Young asked if the initiative is moving slowly because of a request for subpoena power. The response was no, the County is not intentionally slow on this.

Action Item:

- Scott Bollinger and Gus Mattammal will form a committee and discuss the Independent Civilian Oversight of the Sheriff, set up another MCC discussion, possibly inviting a speaker from one of the cities that have this kind of oversight system, and then consider a potential letter of support from the MCC.
